Egg Harbor Township School District Launches Infinite Campus Student Information System

April 6, 2009 – HAUPPAUGE, NY – Custom Computer Specialists Inc. (“Custom”), a leading technology solutions provider and the regional Alliance Partner for Infinite Campus, announced today that Egg Harbor Township School District in New Jersey has implemented Infinite Campus as the district’s new student information system.

According to Chris Shoemaker, Information Technology Services Director at Egg Harbor Township, the Student Information System Selection Committee focused on three criteria essential to the district that led to their selection: ease of use for the teaching staff, an adaptable course master design that allows the district to incorporate the small learning communities model and the availability of a parent portal that views the educational community from a household perspective.

Kim Gruccio, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum & Instruction, praises Custom’s ability to work closely with the district throughout the implementation. “Infinite Campus offered so many solutions to our growing needs, and Custom Computer Specialists offered open ears to fit these needs. Ultimately this is why we picked Infinite Campus over the competition.”

“Infinite Campus is helping schools of all sizes make better decisions with tools that provide clear insight to the volumes of data they need to manage,” said Alan Lacher, Vice President for Custom. “When a district selects Infinite Campus, we partner with them throughout the entire changeover process. The result is clean, accurate data that can be leveraged for real-time decision making.”

Infinite Campus manages over 4 million students in 42 states. The momentum continues to grow in New Jersey as Egg Harbor Township follows six other districts—Bergenfield, Hopewell Valley, Long Branch, Millville, Warren Hills, and West Windsor Plainsboro—who are already using the system.
