Infinite Campus Releases Enhanced Learning Management System

August 14, 2017 – Blaine, Minn. – Infinite Campus, the most trusted name in student information, is excited to announce the release of Campus Learning, a learning management system (LMS) connecting teachers to new, powerful tools for digital learning.

Campus Learning was created to support teachers with exceptional instructional options while providing administrators with visibility. A few of the new features include:

- Enhanced functionality to the Assignment Tool, allowing teachers to create quick online assessments to measure student understanding, manage online discussions and collect work electronically;
- The addition of cloud integration allows teacher to send and receive files from Google Drive and Microsoft OneDrive;
- LTI and OneRoster integration to connect students to digital resources such as Naiku and Khan Academy, as well as Schoology, itslearning, Microsoft Class Notebook and more.

Since the Campus Student Information System is fully integrated, Campus Learning's features are linked to the Grade Book, the online student and parent portals, and district student records, thereby improving access for students and productivity for teachers and district employees.

"With its embedded LMS functionality, access to third-party learning tools, and unparalleled administrative control, Infinite Campus is the all-of-the-above solution," said Charlie Kratsch, CEO and Founder of Infinite Campus.

A free trial of Campus Learning will be provided to all Campus customers for the 2017-18 school year.

Campus Learning is an enhancement to Campus Instruction, which is included in a district's license at no additional charge. Campus Instruction includes more than 20 administrative features including Curriculum planning and Grade Book functionality.
