Infinite Campus Selected as Business Partner of the Association of Educational Service Agencies (AESA)

July 24, 2018 – Blaine, Minn. – Infinite Campus and the Association of Educational Service Agencies (AESA) are excited to announce a new business partnership. Infinite Campus is the first student information system to partner with AESA, a professional organization serving more than 500 regional educational service agencies (ESAs) in 43 states.

“Our mission is to support and strengthen regional ESAs,” said John Bass, Chief Operating Officer at AESA. “Partnering with a forward-thinking company that provides a leading student information and learning management system perfectly supports our overall vision and will greatly benefit our members.”

Infinite Campus works with educational organizations across the country and lets each determine their level of involvement, from managing a group SIS purchase for districts to providing implementation and ongoing support services to Campus districts. “Infinite Campus currently partners with 16 ESAs in nine states who deliver excellent, local customer support for our student information system and related products,” said Dave Noles, Partner Alliance Manager at Infinite Campus.

Being a district-wide single solution, Infinite Campus ensures AESA members have a resource for not only student information and learning management, but also data warehouse export, food service, online payment, a notification system and more. Noles shared, “We are very excited about being an AESA Business Partner and look forward to sharing our vision of Transforming K12 Education®.”
