Infinite Campus Selected as Favorite Student Information System and Data Management Tool

November 5, 2018 – Blaine, Minn. – Infinite Campus has been selected as the 2018 Platinum recipient for Favorite Student Information System (SIS) and Data Management Tool as part of THE Journal's fourth-annual Readers' Choice Awards.

“As a former school district technology director, it's gratifying that education technology professionals voted Infinite Campus as their favorite SIS and the one most vital for educating and supporting America's K12 students,” said Charlie Kratsch, Infinite Campus Founder and CEO. “For 25 years our mission has been to Transform K12 Education® by developing products that make it easier for educators to positively impact teaching and learning. I thank our loyal users for the recognition and our partners and employees for their efforts to provide award-winning, innovative solutions and support services.”

For this year's awards, education technology professionals, educators, IT leaders and staff, instructional technologists, school and district administrators, and more voted for their favorite software, hardware, and services.

“More than 1,100 education technology professionals voted for the tools they think have the most positive impact on the mission of education,” said David Nagel, editor-in-chief of THE Journal. “Our winners this year can be proud of the impact they're having on teaching and learning.”
